In [1]:
```python
def closest_to_zero(nums):
    nums.sort()
    left, right = 0, len(nums) - 1
    closest_sum = float('inf') result = None

    while left < right:
        current_sum = nums[left] + nums[right]
        if abs(current_sum) < abs(closest_sum):
            closest_sum = current_sum result = (nums[left], nums[right])

        if current_sum < 0:
            left += 1
        elif current_sum > 0:
            right -= 1
        else:
            return result

    return result

Sample Test Cases
input1 = [-4, 7, 6, 2, -5]
output1 = closest_to_zero(input1)
print(output1)  # Output: (-5, 6)

input2 = [-50, 34, -19, 24, 33, 10, -46, -38]
output2 = closest_to_zero(input2)
print(output2)  # Output: (-38, 34)
```

```
(-5, 6)
(-38, 34)
```

In [ ]:
```python

```